Success Story

Earlier then to build Hilgal Gravity powered network of clean water, people were faced with water challenges. They used to bring water by children from far away from their houses. It was their parents to make them bring water for their houses Now that a Hilgal WASH project has been built in this village with the support and cooperation of COAR and UNICEF, they will enroll their children the in schools instead of fetching water.

We ask among the children of mentioned village how your situation before the construction of this network were. In reply, Roqya who is the daughter of Amir shah, a 10-year-old child, she said there was so many challenges we were faced with because we used to have fetching water all day, The water was the main key of problem which avoided us to improve in our life or study on time and to go to school.

I have been seriously injured many times while fetching water, in spite of several times injury there was no way I must support my family with a clean drinking water, because I was under the pressure of my parents it was my regular job instead of go to school and join my class. Now, this time I am feeling very happy because a very big problems which we were faced with for a long time has just ended. Right now, I am surprising seeing a clean water stand tap and installed meter box in my house exactly it's a very joyful moment for me and for all children of the village, indeed we were and are in a very low economic situation. Before to start this project in our village my father was going to the city for working purposes by chance sometimes, he found work and sometimes not, but since the day when the water network construction work started in our village, my father has been working with them.

When the plumber installed the water tap in our house, every morning when I wake up, I was checking the water tap it was my best wishes to see a clean water in the installed stand tap in our house after a few days of hard waiting, finally when the water released in stand tap. My mother bowed to the Lord out of joy and kissed me on forehead and told me that after this my daughter will go to Mosque like other villages children. all my parents and the rest people of Hilgal village are so glad from the international Organizations especially from COAR and UNICEF.

We are still very grateful to the staff of UNICEF and COAR for solving this big problem for us.
